

Rhyncholaelia digbyana

Native of: Mexico & Belize

Habitat: Hot dry & sun scolded amongst spiny acacias & thorned cacti.

Description: Medium sized plant with stiff dark green leaves the flowers are either single or in twos and are very large up to 15cm.

Cultivation Guidance: At school we grow this species warm (min 15°C) and dryer than most Cattleya types. Its natural habitat suggests it needs good light.

Flowering season: May-August

Flask to flowering approx: 6yrs.

Seedling source: Bob & Paddy Dadd